College IPL Auction

Auctioneer's guide: how the page works and how to run the auction

How the page works

The whole auction is one file, index.html. There is no server and nothing to install. Open it in Chrome or Edge on the auctioneer's laptop. Every action saves automatically in that browser, so the auction comes back after a refresh or a crash.

SCREEN	WHAT IT'S FOR
Auction (control room)	Where you run the auction live
Players / Teams	Player list, squads and purses
Setup	Event name, teams, rules, players, sets and order, surprises, backup
Reports / Judging	Results, statistics, judging panel, awards, exports
Fixes	Corrections after the fact
Projector	The audience view on the big screen

Before the event

1. Setup → Event & teams: enter the event name and the teams: name, short code, colour and owner for each.
2. Setup → Auction rules: set the purse, squad size, overseas limit, RTM cards and bid steps.
3. Setup → Players: load the IPL players or import your own CSV. Then press SAVE PHOTOS OFFLINE while you are online, so photos work without internet at the venue.
4. Setup → Sets & order: choose random order (the default), random within each set, or fixed set order.
5. Setup → Surprises: choose how often mystery and wild card players pop in, and how many of each.
6. The sample practice auction is still loaded. Clear it with Setup → Backup & reset → Clear results.
7. Export backup before the event and again at every break.
8. Projector: press `V` to show the projector view on the same screen, or open a second window and drag it onto the projector.

Running the auction

1. Start
START AUCTION or `Enter`

2. Show & open
`Enter` shows, `Enter` opens

3. Bid
Tap a team or press its number

4. Close
`G` once, twice, close

5. Result
Sold or unsold, next player comes up

1. Start: press START AUCTION or `Enter`. The projector shows "THE AUCTION IS LIVE" and the first random player comes onto the block.
2. Show the player: each new player stays hidden on the projector, which keeps showing who bought the last player. Press `Enter` (or SHOW PLAYER ON PROJECTOR) to reveal them.
3. Open the bidding: press `Enter` again, or just tap the team that bids first. The opening bid is the player's base price.
4. Take bids: when a paddle goes up, tap that team's button or press its number key (`1`–`9`, `0`, `Shift`+`1`–`5`).
   - `Space` brings the other team back in during a two-team bidding war.
   - The + buttons raise the step; `C` enters a custom amount.
   - The page blocks any bid a team can't afford or isn't allowed to make.
5. Close the bidding: click the BIDDING box or press `G`. The first press calls Going once, the second Going twice, the third closes it. Any new bid resets it to OPEN.
6. Result: with a bid, it confirms the sale (offering RTM first if a team holds a card for that player). With no bids, it asks whether to mark the player unsold. The next player then comes up automatically.

Tips for the auctioneer

> Keep one hand on the number keys and the other on `G` and `S`. Call "going once" and "going twice" out loud as you press `G`.

- Holding a key down or double-clicking never counts twice.
- Mistakes are fixable: `R` undoes, and the Fixes page handles later corrections. Nothing is ever deleted from the history.
- Photos need internet unless you pressed SAVE PHOTOS OFFLINE beforehand. Players without a photo show their initials.
- Export a backup at every break. Restore backup loads it on any machine.
- At the end, Reports has team squads, statistics and awards, with CSV, Excel and PDF exports.
